In the practicals, the students should learn and practice the approach to patients with internal diseases (mainly cardiovascular diseases, optimally in accordance with the topics of ongoing lectures), by examination of patients (including medical history and physical examination) and discussing the cases with a teacher (including interpretation of ECG and the results of laboratory tests and imaging methods and the analysis of potential pharmacotherapy and other treatment modalities).

Take your white coat, proper shoes, ISIC card and a stethoscope. Face mask or respirator are recommended.

Practicals in cardiology

All students will have in the semester one practical in the Department of Cardiology. Please, respect the following instructions and schedule:

The students should arrive 5-10 minutes ahead of time and wait in front of the secretariat of Dpt of Cardiology (University Hospital Lochotín, entrance B, ground floor). Write a list of attending students, the teacher in cardiology will confirm the attendance list by a signature and, in following week, give the list to your teacher of internal medicine.
